

Junior Play "Beauty and the Beef"

Little brother can really mess things up.

Moquin is working up a scheme. He is in need of a bass drum and he must plan a way to get it.

There seems to be a problem here. "Which way do I go," says Hal.

County Government Day

"What a revolting development!" think the three guilty victims, as they are condemned and awaiting their sentence. Wayne McClure seems the most concerned, as Donna DeWitt laughs to herself, and Jon Deaton sits by silently.

"Just Honky-Tonkin' around," answers Jon Deaton to a question from Prosecutor Robert Scogin during testimony which helped convict him of robbery and assault with firearms. He succeeded in amusing spectators, but failed to succeed in gaining the confidence of the jury.

Sheriff Jack Evans listens as Defense Attorney Otto Kitsinger cross examines a witness.

Judge Cook takes the stand as a character witness for the defense.
