

Introducing

The time spent on each part of each division, page, and picture, will never be fully realized by you, but it is with great pleasure that we, the staff, proudly present the SANDSTORM of 1942.

We hope you will be as lenient as possible and will try to cast a tolerant eye upon our mistakes which have been our misfortune to make.

In future years when you go through these pages we hope they will bring back dear memories of your happy school days. Our one hope is that you enjoy going through this yearbook as much as we have enjoyed making it. Of course we know we cannot please everyone but if each student appreciates one part, our aims will have been achieved.

*Dedicated to Russell
Day*

Due to his easy-going temperament, his undying loyalty to Kermit High School, his ability as a journalist which has brought much recognition to our school, and his friendly personality which made him a favorite of all students, we dedicate the 1942 "Sandstorm" to Russell Day, who has proven himself worthy of his country by joining the U. S. Air Corps.
