

Constructed only this year, the new grade school is to help relieve crowded conditions that existed for a short time.

The junior high students attended classes in what once housed the top four grades. The inscription on the building hasn't changed, but these walls now house a younger generation.

The beginners attend classes in modernistic one-story building near athletic field. Here it all begins, the years of study, play, learning, and living.

The high school gym — scene of exciting basketball and volleyball games, pep rallies, and musclebuilding physical training classes. The students are proud of the well-kept hardwood floors, clean walls, good equipment.

When the noon bell rings the students head for the cafeteria. Here piping hot meals are served for a reasonable sum. Modernistic equipment and able management help in its efficiency.
