

Backstage, Connie McDonald puts make-up on Betsy Burnett.

Scientist Marc King happily grins while Brown Ant Keith Anderson's life is threatened by General Mike Spinks.

Girl Martha Spinks disgustingly listens to Scientist Marc King as he pleads for her assistance with his experiments.

'Under the Sycamore Tree' Presented by Senior Class

The senior class presented "Under the Sycamore Tree" by Samuel Spewack in the Kermit High School Auditorium on Feb. 19, 1966.

Mr. Paul Wilmoth and his crew worked hard to build a set consisting of a housing development of an ant colony.

Queen Ant Sharyn Moore desired and received modern progress for her colony. She and her husband, Marc King, wanted to leave her colony to perfection for their daughter.

Student Director for the play was Keith Anderson.

Sharyn Moore rejects the offers of servants Trisha Russell, Donna Stanley, Pam Peden, Sherry Frankfather and Betsy Burnett.

Marc King explains his various experiments while Mike Spinks dreams of the good old days.

Chief Statistician Burton Carley and Queen Sharyn Moore discuss the improvements of their colony.

