

'The Miracle Worker,' placed second in district UIL competition on March 30, 1967 in Odessa.

Susan Sidwell and Ginger Schmidt were placed on the all-star cast.

Linda Sparks fights with Ginger Schmidt for the scissors.

Randy argues with Susan Sidwell about continuing to teach Hellen.

Contest Play Ranks Second in UIL

Randy Whorton and David Lancaster argue about the Civil War while Ginger gropes for food.

Tina Leatherwood advertises soap as Karen VanDemon watches.

Mary Graham has trouble proving points in French in the Junior Play.

Jack Dunlop, Marvin Floyd, James Reid, and Doris Worley argue over different ideas for advertising.

Junior Class Presents Comedy

"It Pays to Advertise" was presented by the Junior Class and staged Dec. 17, 1966. Kenny Jones was student director.

Marvin Floyd tries to prove to James Reid that he can be a successful business executive too.

The cast included: Mary Graham, Marvin Floyd, James Reid, Jack Dunlop, Vickie Evans, Dana Kirk, Goldie Turner, Judy Mayer, Steve Brown, Mike Batchelor, Patsy Lisenbee, Mel Ogletree, Karen VanDemon, Tina Leatherwood, Kathy Smith, Ricky Dingler and Doris Worley.