TO THESE RESPECTED MEN:

They do not ask to walk smooth paths
Nor that their load be an easy one.
They pray for strength and fortitude
To overcome the rock strewn road.

They ask for courage so they can scale
The hardest peaks, not alone
And ask that they may turn every stumbling block
Into a stepping stone.

Dr. John Dampeer

Mr. Dawson inspires both students and teachers to do their best. What is good for Kermit is the foremost question in his mind, and always when problems arise—as they are sure to do—Mr. Dawson uses that fair standard to seek a solution.
