The 1977 year was "truly rewarding" for the cast of the KHS one-act play, "Taming of the Shrew," a play by Shakespeare.

Under the direction of Mr. Jerry Knight, the cast presented a circus version of Shakespeare's play.

After two months of hard work the cast presented the play in district competition and was named one of the best two. Laurie Morris was named best actress. Corby Biddle, Adam Butler, Kevin Brewer, Joey Cox, and Greg Davis were named to the district All-Star cast. Rhonda Fields was named Honorable Mention.

Two weeks later the cast advanced to a regional competition and again received top honors. Joey Cox and Laurie Dietrich received Area All-Star cast honors. Receiving Honorable Mention were Greg Davis and Adam Butler.

One week later the play was presented in regional competition and again another success. Corby Biddle, Joey Cox and Greg Davis were named to Regional All-Star cast.

In state competition Joey Cox received Honorable Mention.

Revive Him, Revive HIM! Corby Biddle is pictured working furiously to revive his possible future father-in-law, Adam Butler, during the KHS awarding winning play.

Such a tender moment! Members of the cast are shown looking on in various forms of amusement as Laurie Dietrich prepares to embrace Greg Davis.
