In Memory Of Adam Butler

The death of Adam Butler was a great loss to us all — especially his class, the Seniors of 1979. Growing up and going to school with Adam was a privilege. We borrowed his Geometry papers and laughed at his practical jokes. We loved talking to him because he could bring anyone out of a bad mood. With his death we lost a good friend and a classmate, but most of all each one of us who loved him so much lost a part of ourselves, too. A part which had been filled with laughter and joy throughout our school years. Adam may be gone, but the memory of the happiness he gave to each one of us shall live in our hearts forever . . .
