Whether you are a senior about to finish high school or a freshman who has just started out, this year holds many memories. Some are good and some may be bad, but we know that this will be the year we won't forget.

The fashion news is black pumps and riding boots. Mini skirts and legwarmers also hit the Kermit school scene. Ruffled shirts and skirts are in with the prairie look and cowboy boots are just as popular as ever for both men and women. Tuxedo tops and pants in pink, grey, turquoise and even purple are sweeping the town.

Looking Back . . .

Guys are wearing oxford button-down shirts and boaters, but of course the cowboy jeans, boots and shirts are always the big fashion in Kermit.

Unemployment is the big national news and in the area the oil businesses are looking inactive. The Tylenol company was nearly ruined by the scandle of poisoning. The world is shocked by the death of Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev and delighted by the birth of Prince Charles' and Lady Diane's son.

What's Happening This Year?

Construction is taking place just outside of the school as a new library is being built and the new junior high is getting the final touches for opening next year.

The chemistry class is making smoke bombs, while the physics class is rigging up the speaker system and piping in music to Mr. Barrs' office. The yearbook staff is roaming the halls along with the student council officers and the freshmen are dog piling anyone who gets in their way. The government class is having a party with popcorn and everyone is complaining about how bad the cafeteria food is. It's just a typical day in the lives of Kermit High School students as we take a quick glance at 1982-83.
