Sponsor: Phil Parks.

Under the guidance of Mr. Phil Parks, all aspects of the Journalism department were very active.

Press Club

The 82-83 Press Club was made up of the interested students and former students of the journalism classes. A common goal of the club was to learn as much as possible about as many fields as was possible. The club kept themselves updated on both newspaper and yearbook by various means. One way was to send members of the yearbook, newspaper and photojournalistic staff to the ILPC meet in Austin, another way was to keep a steady flow of different newspapers coming in.

Press Club

Both publications showed a great deal of improvement over the years past and set the standard for the years to come.

Newspaper

The Yellow Jacket staff used many new and creative ideas in their publications this year. The newspaper continued to use several traditional items that have become special to the students of KHS but also managed to blend many new ideas. The staff put out a great deal of effort and was rewarded for it.

Annual Staff

The Sandstorm staff worked consistently throughout the year to give students at high school and junior high a yearbook that not only reflected the entire school year, but could become a part of many cherished memories in future years. While at times there seemed to be nothing to do, most of the time everyone was working furiously toward another deadline.

Officers for the Press Club were (l-r) Mary Martinez-Vice Pres., Pam Hall-Sec. and Kirk Franklin-President.

Contributing to the Yellow Jacket this year were FRONT ROW Kirk Franklin, Coby Owen, and Mike Parks, BACK ROW Debbie Campbell, Margo Hector, and Connie Sullenger. Even with an unusually small staff the newspaper was still of very good quality.
