I remember when Sylvia Lopez, Mimi Juarez and I used to eat at Dairy Queen in Junior High and then we'd all get on a diet," — Vicky Briseno.

I remember when my family went to England and we couldn't get back until citizenship was assured," — David Proffitt.

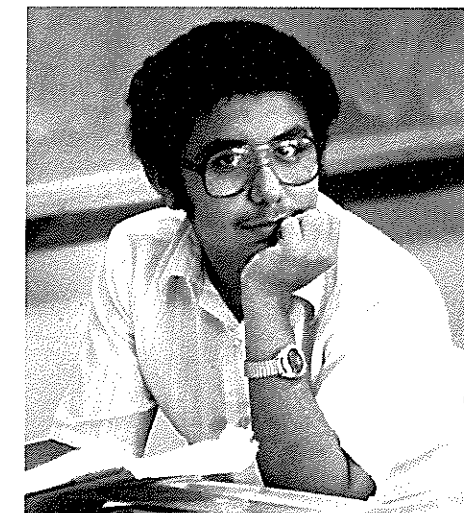

I remember when I had Mrs. Henry in the fifth grade. Denise Lunsford and I were playing with the hole punch and we got it stuck in my dress pocket. We couldn't get it out so I had to put it in my pocket and go to lunch instead of putting it back on the desk. When we got back from lunch we ripped it out and put it back and prayed Mrs. Henry didn't find out," — Connie Creager.
