

Kermit: Home Of The Yellow

Kermit began as an oil-boom town in the early 1930's and in a couple of years Kermit High School was created . . .

The production of crude oil, gasoline, and LPG still remain the backbone of local economy and Kermit High School and the Yellow Jackets are primary ingredients, too.

Yellow Jacket pride plays an important role in the life of Kermit, Winkler County and Kermit High.

From the early pioneers in this part of West Texas until now, there has always been a fierce, independent spirit . . . and it is still alive and well. That spirit is often molded into one larger spirit — Yellow Jacket Spirit. Because of intense pride and spirit, it is becoming harder and harder to even find opponents for our athletic teams to play. That line in the yell is still true: "Nobody prouder!"

Jackets
