

One Act Play . . . 'Wayward Saints'

Kermit High thespians chose "The Company of Wayward Saints" as the play to perform for One-Act Play competition.

"The play as a whole fit the cast better than any other show I have done here in a long time. Although we didn't advance, they did an outstanding job on a difficult play," said Miss Vicki Pigmon.

Cast members also won awards for their performances. Kevin Helmer was named to the Honorable Mention Cast, while Shawn Wade and Darah Smith were named to the All-Star Cast.

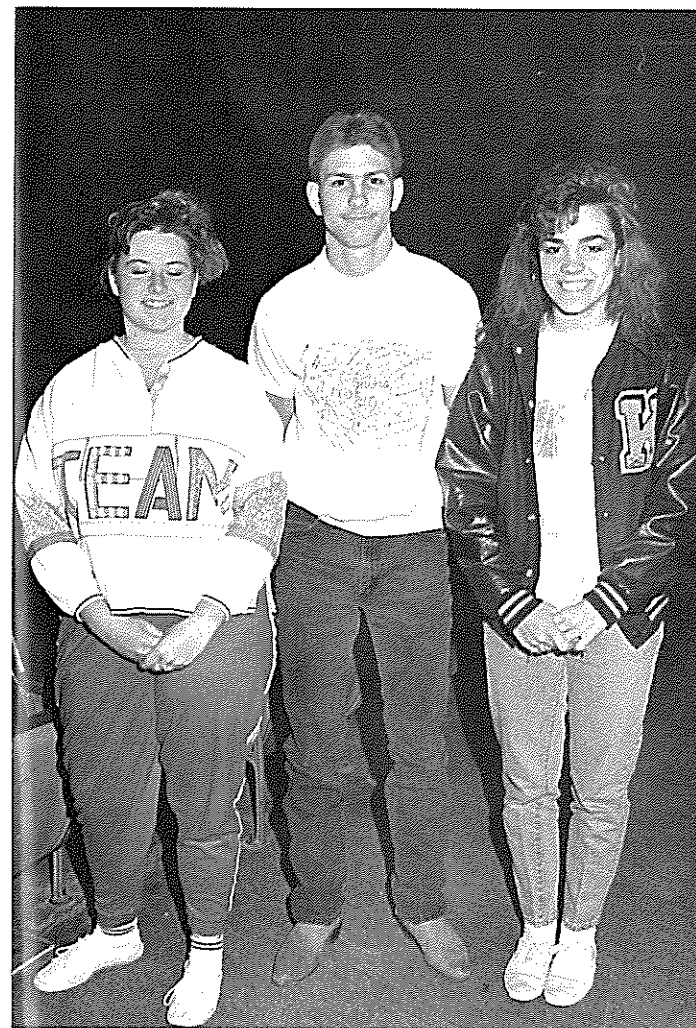

Performing in the KHS One-Act Play "The Company Of Wayward Saints" were FRONT Shawn Wade, Dawn Hair, Amy Hudson, Darah Smith, and Clary Cutrell STANDING Adam Carrasco, Jonas Edwards, Kevin Helmer and Chris Carlisle.

Clary Cutrell and Darah Smith surely are not the best of friends, on stage at least!

One major confrontation during the play was between Shawn Wade (left) and Kevin Helmer.

Working behind the scenes as members of the all-important stage crew were Lee Beth Knight, Jimmy Webb and Angel Shaffer.

Fuss, Fume And Fight!

"You used my lipstick!" screamed Darah Smith as she accused Clary Cutrell of an inexcusable offense.

Adam Carrasco (Harlequin) sets the Company straight after each and every one believed they had the "Lead" role.
