

Competing in accounting were sponsor Diana Hampton, Jason Mills, Shawna Barron, and Marshall Wells. Mills placed fourth in the district meet.

Competing in UIL calculator were Chris Heredia, Marshall Wells, Tonya Tate and sponsor Mrs. Linda Vargas. Wells placed fifth at the district meet.

The UIL participants that competed in general math included Darin Carrasco, Roland Holder, Brandon Davis, Chad Smith, and sponsor Mrs. Barbara Willingham. Holder placed second at district and Carrasco placed third. Davis placed sixth.

Competing in prose interpretation were Clary Cutrell, John Sawyer, and sponsor Mr. Dan Evans.

Competing in journalism were Shanna Crowe, Carrie Lajoie, Tonya Tate, Melissa Beard and Librado Galindo. They were sponsored by Mr. Phil Parks. Tonya Tate placed third in feature writing at district and Shanna Crowe placed fourth. Melissa Beard placed fifth in news writing and third in current issues and events.

Kids Learn From Shield

Students Helping Individuals Escape Life-threatening Drugs were FRONT ROW Lori Smith, Melinda Whigham, Mary Batchelor, Jolynn Compton, Cathy Pilkington, Tonya Martin and Kari Houston. SECOND ROW Dormina Carrasco, Janet Graves, Shelly Knight, Karen Pass, Lacey Emmerson, Jeff Thompson, Michael Carlisle, Amy Willingham, Elyse Coates, Amy Fires and Andrea Lowe. BACK ROW Jennifer Day, Travis Peeler, Angel Mobbs, Chris Heredia, John Sawyer, Roland Holder, Garron Halterman and Javier Orona.

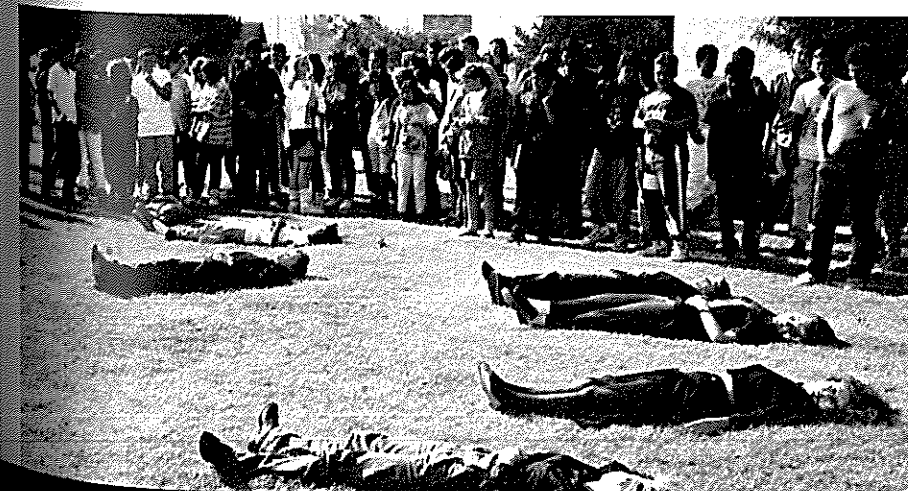

Officers were President Jeff Thompson. BACK ROW Parliamentarian Michael Carlisle, Vice President Andrea Lowe and Secretary Dormina Carrasco.

The 1991-92 school year was successful for SHIELD. They held dances and game nights. They performed a "Dead Day," in which they showed how many kids are killed from drunk drivers during the school day. The SHIELD members handed out buttons and magnets and performed skits. They also put stockings with candy-canes and reminders in every locker.

SHIELD sponsors were Barbara Willingham. BACK ROW David Whigham, Cherry Whigham and Connie Phillips.

Students watch as SHIELD members perform a skit.