GOOD-BYE

It's Time To Leave

How does one get over a death when it is so hard to understand it in the first place?

Not only is not having the person around hard enough, but to remember their glowing face.

You look back at past times and laugh at how silly we used to be. Now "we" has become "me," and letting you go is hurting me.

Every difficulty in life is to be thought of alone.

Because when all that had to be done was pick up my phone, and there you would be.

No longer is that true ...

'Cause you're no longer home.

I look at your picture and slowly I lose vision of what you meant to everyone.

You're no longer around ... But we still love you Juan!

Do look over us, remember we all will always be friends. The friendship you gave will last forever until the end.

From His Fellow Senior Class of 1992

As each day goes by we realize the time has come that we must leave our lives at KHS and say goodbye to the good 'ole days. Who could ever forget the stinky halls that came with the prank, or the plays that we put on in Mr. Evans class. We will not forget those times, those friends, even those teachers. Although we will walk in a different light now the halls of KHS will always remain in our mind.

We, the Senior Class of 1991-92, wish to say goodbye. Goodbye to early classes, goodbye to special friends, goodbye to KHS ...
