

KHS Contributes to Locks of Love

At the suggestion of KHS Head of Nursing Mary Lou Lujan, R.N., the Ladyjackets and Stuco sponsored a hair collection drive for Locks of Love during the Alpine game on February 1st.

Several sophomores were among the ladies contributing 10 inches of hair for use in making hairpieces for those who have lost hair due to illness. Local beauticians donated their time and services in cutting 30 locks of hair and raising $550 for the cause.

Sophomore Korina Urias has her hair measured for possible contribution.

Classmate Terry Gonzales and Stuco sponsor Evelyn Lockwood offer encouragement as Korina gets her hair cut.

Terry congratulates Korina on her contribution and also decides to contribute.

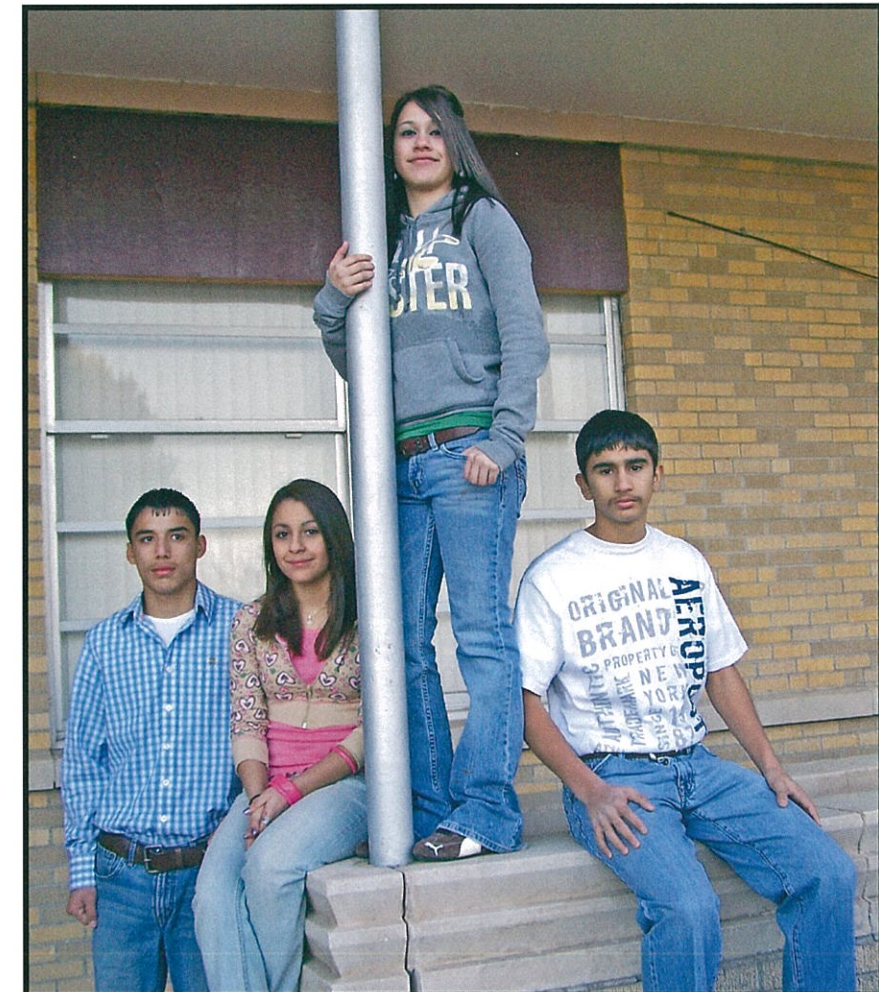

Concern for what the new style will look like is apparent.

Concern turns to a smile of pride in her contribution and new look.
