Rene,
 We have been dreading this moment for some time. These few words to you means that a change is coming to your life that will affect you and us also. Change is not easy but it is necessary. If one is to fulfill his goals and dreams. We are very proud of your accomplishments and excited about your future, your possibilities are endless. You are a talented and hard working young man, but your biggest asset is your heart and thats what makes you strong. Keep smiling and always remember that a parent's love goes with you everywhere you go. May God bless you with health and happiness.

Aleeza,

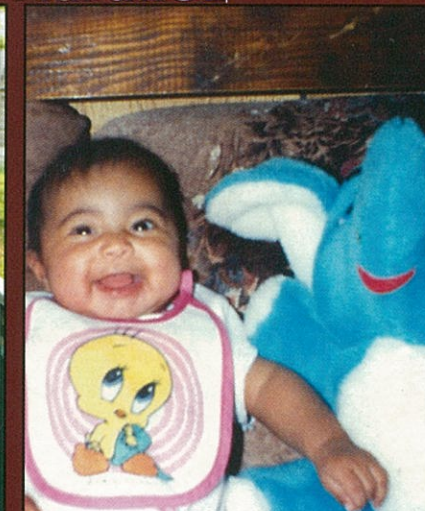

It seems like only yesterday we were dropping you off at Pre-K, and now here you are a beautiful young mother about to start college and break our bank. We are so proud of you and all your accomplishments even though you made us young grandparents. It has been a true blessing to have you and Lluvia in our lives and we thank the Lord everyday that there are only one of each of you. It makes us sad that you are leaving to college, but only because you are taking the baby... you can still change your mind and leave our princess here... but in all seriousness... Aleeza you have truly become a beautiful mother & daughter we love you so much. You can do anything you set your mind to & having Lluvia made it harder but interesting & exciting. We would'nt have it another way we are truly proud to have you as our daughter.
