

Junior Class History

WILLIE SMITH
President

The Junior Class might be considered the Wink High orphans, because they have gone many weeks at a time without the aid of the guiding hand of a sponsor. At the beginning of school Miss Gladys Riddles was their sponsor, but because she had a great deal of work on her hands she was forced to resign her position as the Junior guardian. After the resignation of Miss Riddles, the Juniors drifted along in this wicked world for some time with no sponsor. As the Junior Class rode along the rough road of life with no one to guide them, the Class finally decided that they must find some one to look after them and give them some friendly advice, so they asked Miss Emma Cearley to be their sponsor; she is now leading the Junior Class through the rough spots on the road of life that every Junior must sooner or later come to and pass in the course of time.

Even though the Juniors have been without a sponsor at times, the Class has managed to have a good time. They have had a number of picnics and parties during the year, and taking everything into consideration, the "orphans" have fared well during the year. On the first day of April the Juniors painted the word "JUNIORS" upon the city water tank and the same afternoon the Class enjoyed a lovely trip to the sand hills.

Due to the splendid leadership of Willie Smith and the guidance of Miss Cearley and Miss Riddles the Juniors have had a very successful and enjoyable year.
