

Lee M. Nuzum, Mrs. F. A. Robinson, Miss Gladys Riddles, Miss Letitia Rixon, Mrs. E. L. Randolph, Mr. Lee Johnson.
 Miss Emma Cearley, Mrs. Murtel Dancer, Miss Marie Wilson, Miss Bedie Dutton, Miss Rose Nelson, Mrs. J. H. Buckingham.
 Mr. Earl Ray, Miss Selma Cloud, Mrs. Clara R. Dashner, Mrs. Frances Hammet, Mrs. Ilene Guthrey, Mr. J. C. Laughlin.
 Mrs. Grady Morrison, Miss Vera Covington, Mrs. F. B. Davenport, Mrs. S. A. Parker, Mrs. Chas. P. Laughlin, Mrs. Harvey.

TEACHERS

To know thy thoughts, to read your minds,
 To know X from Y, to decline the favorite noun,
 To do great things, to never wear a frown;
 But, say—these traits are hard to find.

Be a teacher then, that's a great life!
 Draw in money, pay out bills.
 Teach forever, it seems, until
 You've conquered all the warry strife.

Sit up late, grade papers and smile;
 I guess they like it, I wonder why;
 But they give their bit and try
 To help us along the world's big mile.

MISS BERNICE GILBERT MRS. JIM TERRILL MRS. RALPH LOWE MRS. M. R. MARTIN
 MRS. MINNIE S. REDING MISS VADA FLETCHER
 MISS LAURA HARRIS MISS JEWEL TAYLOR MISS ROBBIE M. POWERS MISS ELSIE MURRELL

In a spot of the "Far West Texas," in the town of the liquid gold, may be found a group of people who have banded themselves together; these people have selected as their name one that we shall never forget—TEACHERS!!!! Thirty-four of these an—I mean people have as their leader a major—not a major in music but one of the army, Major A. E. Lang. Forgetting the funny side of them, 'though sometimes they do make us laugh, this group has given its best to Wink School. Through their efforts the "tiny-tots" have become interested in the great world of education, additional credits have been gained toward affiliation, a newspaper has been started, winning teams in basketball have been trained, this annual has been published, and last but not least, Citizens of Tomorrow have been shown the right path to trod as they enter the big Field of Life.