Erma Hammer

Charles Stroder has been one of our most dependable students during his entire high school career. He has had all of his high school work in this school as well as three years of elementary school work. As evidence that he has been active in school functions we find that he has been a member of the yearbook staff, the senior play cast and both Junior and Senior chapters of the National Honor Society. He has been on the honor rolls and was a member of this year's bi-district championship football team. He was selected as an all district guard. He was chosen as best citizen boy by the students of the entire school. The faculty also choose Charles as the representative to attend the "Boys State" meeting in Austin for the week of June 6-13.

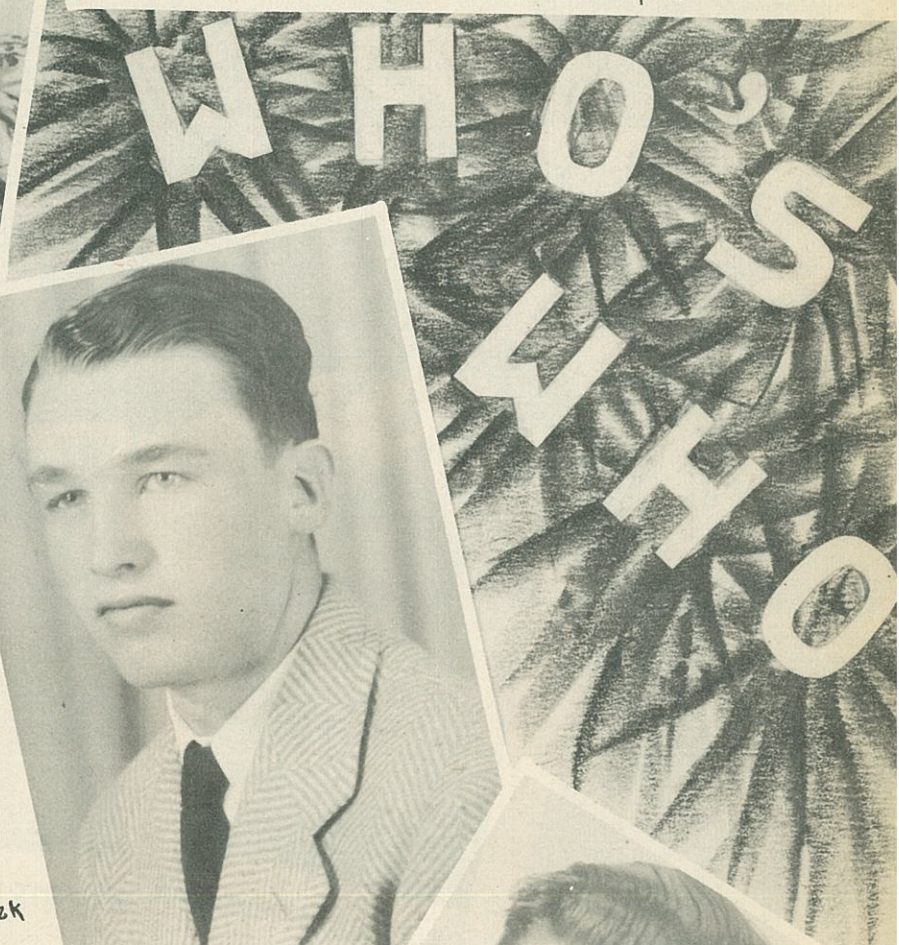

Charles likes snows, sports, fishing and the Marines. He dislikes tests, wind and Japs. He is planning to attend A. & M. College until he goes into the armed service. His ambition is to be a petroleum engineer and his hobbies are hunting and fishing.

Charles Sanders entered the Wink Schools in the second grade, and has been with us since that time. He is valedictorian of his class and has the unique record of having led his class scholastically by a substantial margin each of the four years he has been in high school. His record also includes the following achievements: a member of the Band for five years, a member of the junior play cast, a member of the Junior and Senior chapters of the National Honor Society, President of the Society his senior year, a member of the Glee club and co-editor of the 1944 yearbook. He is vice-president of the senior class.

Charles likes math, fishing, swimming and Band. He dislikes sand, thorns, and headstrong people. His ambition is to be an aeronautical engineer and he plans to enter Rice Institute.

Erma has been a student in the Wink Schools since she started to school in the first grade. She has made a very outstanding record during her four years in high school. Her name consistently appears on the honor roll and a check of her four year average reveals the fact that she is salutatorian of her class. She is a member of both Junior and Senior chapters of the National Honor Society, an outstanding member of the Band for seven years, and a member of the Glee clubs for four years. She was co-editor of the yearbook her senior year, a member of the Junior and Senior play casts and was chosen by her classmates as best girl citizen of Wink High School.

Erma likes picture shows, snow, climbing trees, people and arguments. She dislikes toothpaste, sandstorms, conceited people and tests. Her ambition is to be a trained nurse and she plans to enter the Methodist hospital in Dallas in June. Her hobby is music.
