"Education makes a people easy to lead, but difficult to drive; easy to govern, but impossible to enslave," so says Lord Brougham.

There never has been in the world's history a period when it was more worthwhile to be a teacher than in this century; for there was never an age when such vast multitudes were eager for an education or when the necessity of a liberal education was so generously recognized. It is my hope that each student is as proud of being a member of the student body as each teacher is proud of being a member of the teaching staff.

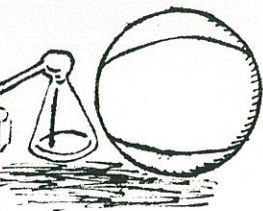

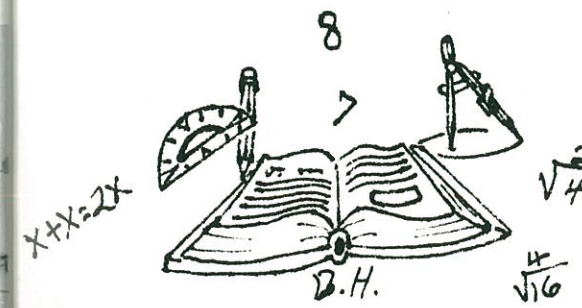

With the changing world there is an enormous need for you to be able to come to grips with the life that is yours and the future that you would like to live. No matter what else you get out of life, you have the opportunity to get an education. Everyone should want this. The best bargain you can get today is a good education; to develop your mind, as well as your body; learn how to think and how to live; how to be a real person. There is no short cut to it; it means study, it means work, but in the end you will have joy because you will have known what you wanted. You will have what you wanted, and you will want what you got. That makes a right happy person, not only as a high school student, but as a human being in the society of America.
