

1970 may begin a time to redeem old promises; to attain personal goals. At the beginning of the decade we are riding toward the future, but without a basic storehouse of knowledge our dreams will remain mere fantasies. School is the launching pad for our individual attempts at improving the quality of our lives. Here we receive the ideals that spark our drive to fulfill our goals.

School is . . .

A Place Alive With Students

. . .
Not . . .

Deserted Buildings Dreaming in the Snow

School is . . .

Sophisticated
Seniors

Knowledgeable Juniors

as Well
as . . .

Uncertain Sophomores

and Bewildered Freshmen