

The oil and gas still flow, and the road still leads to the town and school where students enjoy a variety of activities. It's still the "oil patch."

