I prop up the wall in my spare time.

So that's how marionettes work.

Two Faculty Members Plan to Retire

Eleanor Steelman

On August 15, 1964, I arrived in Wink, tired and weary from a 550 mile move. That was a beautiful bright sunny day, and most of my days have been that way. I have had a joyous and rewarding time working in the community; with the students, the Board of Education, Administration, and Faculty, for which I am so very grateful.

Thank you for fourteen interesting years!

Since I have spent almost half of my life either attending school here, or teaching here, the Wink school is a part of me. I have enjoyed the association with Administrators, Faculty, and students. It is with regret that I feel it best for me to retire at this time. This is a place where my thoughts will return often. I'll be interested in the fortune of the school and the students I have taught and known.
