Goal: To Help Individuals Improve Personal, Family, And Community Living

Future Homemakers of America members have fun with activities such as bake sales, picnics, Christmas programs for the nursing home, and a talent show, which keeps them busy all year round. Some say FHA is all about cooking and sewing, but this is not true. FHA is learning to help others help themselves. When the work is finished, members sit back and relax, but while working on a project, everyone gives 110% of time and patience. The officers in FHA are really dedicated to their work. It is up to the officers to make sure that each member works on group projects with the hardest work, taking part in the State FHA meeting.

The sponsor helps keep everything running smoothly. She really cares about FHA and the students. When a member gets in a bind and can't decide what to do, she helps out in any way she can. She is a really nice person. The sponsor is Linda Surratt.

Gail Stowe, a Mary Kay Beauty Consultant, attended, and applied beauty aids at one of the meetings.
