

The Race To

Annual Staff

Mrs. Linda Surratt, Harlan Hopper, David Ridgeway, Sherri Bradeen, Crawford Adams, Shana Jacobsen, Tracy Treadwell, Cary Carman.

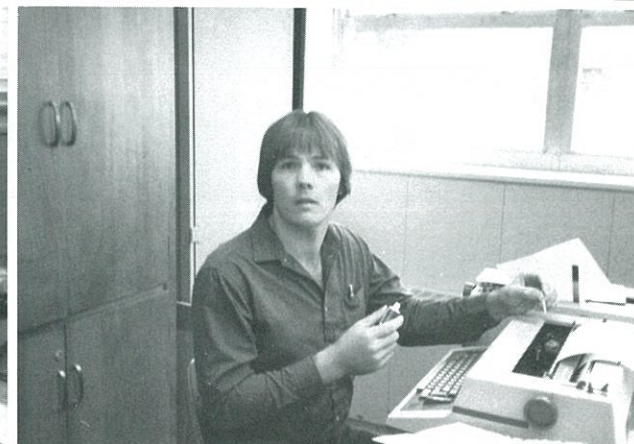

The theme of this year's annual is "Wink Schools-Symbol of Success." We wanted to express, through the annual, what makes Wink schools successful. This is demonstrated by our success in U.I.L., academics, and athletics. The annual staff has a hard and time consuming job of putting a year together with pictures, words, and headlines. There are deadlines to meet which can be very stressful. All in all, being on the staff is an honor because everyone helps recapture a whole year of school with all of its activities into 112 pages plus a supplement at the end of the year. An annual serves as a picture and memory book of the past school year and it is a very important part of Wink schools.

School Newspaper

Journalism has been an interesting experience this year. My students came in knowing very little about interviews, photography, feature stories, or the covering of sports events. The strength of my students lies in the fact that they are eager to work and they can all be depended on to come up with a newspaper. We work together well. Every time the article, photograph, or even Erwin the Cow appears in The Wildcatter, you can bet that it is the result of at least three persons' efforts. I always hope that the newspaper is entertaining, but I feel that beyond learning to put out a newspaper, the students are learning to work together and they are getting a chance to use their creativity.
