Geneva makes a spectacular flying leap for a shot at the District title. She might not have placed but she gave it her all.

Ken Lofgren reaches for the sky. He overtook the 4'5" and went on to try for 5'.

"Gee, I should have had a V-8!" They both agreed that they needed something to get back on the winning side.

Shooting for two, J.R. Glenn puts it in the hoop. The extra points made by him gave them an advantage over the Sanderson Eagles.

The technique of these young tennis players looks good, but the ball doesn't seem to be going in the right direction. They got their stuff straightened and managed to get the ball across the net.
