

Dessert

We all have a sweet tooth. One of the most pleasant memories of school is the dessert, otherwise known as electives. Electives can make an ordinary year into a special one. Electives give any school year a lift. Tortes, cookies, pies, congealed desserts, and custards are to a meal as computers, auto mechanics, art, woodshop, and homemaking are to the basics. Electives satisfy the creative urge of the student perhaps more than any other class. Electives are classes that can be used to the students advantage in the selecting of a career. Accounting, welding, drafting, Spanish, journalism (yearbook), typing, shorthand . . . The list goes on. Choose your dessert carefully-it's the pleasant taste treat that accents your year.

Annual staff hard at work! Sean is thinking of captions for pictures. Scotty and Danny researched 1987 history and Eddie and Maria discussed needed photographs.

Jeffrey thinks it is funny that James and Coach Thomas are working on the new school Bar-B-Que pit. The trailer is to be finished in May.

Mechanical Drawing- The class that is to the point. Tony Roach, Jeff Jones, Sean Deeler, Bryan Kenyon, Rickey Martinez, and Arsie Quiroz worked on individual projects.

Scott McDonald, Tommy Frie, Terry Warren, Krisryl Yares, Maria Estrada and Lupe Garza take time out to be photographed. Their time was usually spent taking pictures & developing film.

"Slow down, Jack", Coach Thomas said. Phillip Lara helped cur a dado in a board for a shelf.

Arnie and Hector try to teach Maria how to work on a car. Roger Carter supervised their progress.

The computer class learns how computers are used in Wink. Caroline Jones at the Winkler County, State Bank showed Joe and Scotty how the proofing machine works.

The new class on the block is fine art. Arsie Quiroz, Rosemary Cobos, Christina Garcia, and teacher, Mrs. Mahoney worked on the Wildcat which the class painted on the water tank.

Speed is the object in shorthand. Here are the future secretaries of the world, Denise Milligan and Salina Jones. The class is supervised by Mrs. Roensch.

Knights of the square table eating dinner. Mrs. Thomas' Homemaking I class sampled their final lab or a noon luncheon.

