

Headed For Success

Dedication, school spirit, hard work, cooperation, and patience are what make a cheerleader.

Cheerleading isn't just jumping around, it's a lot of hard work throughout the weeks and mostly on the weekends.

It takes dedication and school spirit from each individual to keep the Spirit of W.H.S. going.

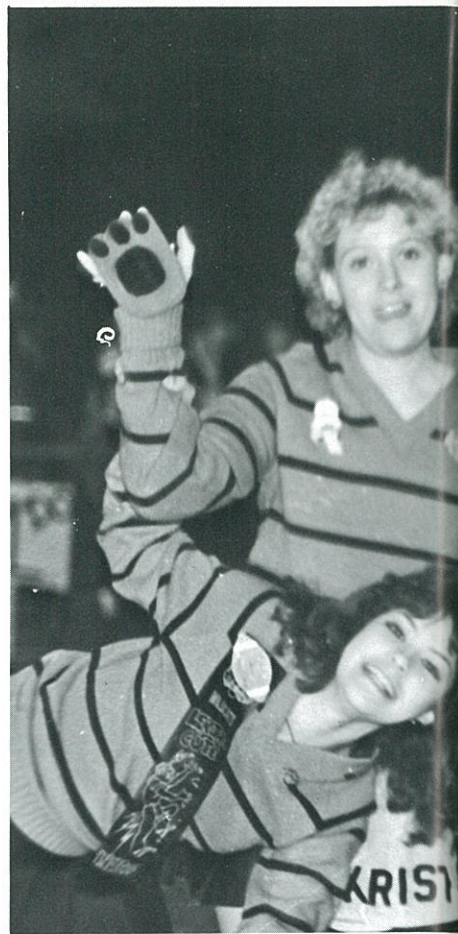

Making run-through's, fence signs, practicing routines, cheers, and preparing for the pep-rallies and games are the things that take much work and time.

Many sacrifices have to be made in order to get things done. The cheerleaders all agree that the sacrifice of their own free time is the most difficult to make.

Heading for a victory . . . Cheerleaders lead the team.

Cheerleaders practice on the weekends. They put in many hours.

Tracy Harris shows her spirit as she waves the flag. Wink scored another touchdown.

Flags fly high as the game begins. The season kicked off with a win.

Paw Power inspires enthusiasm. Paws were made and sold by Alpha Psi Omega.
