

Kittens Begin An Adventurous Life

The Jr. High classes are an attentive bunch of kids who seem to be preparing for a bright future. Studying, listening, preparing for classes, and rewriting homework are all a part of their J.H. lives.

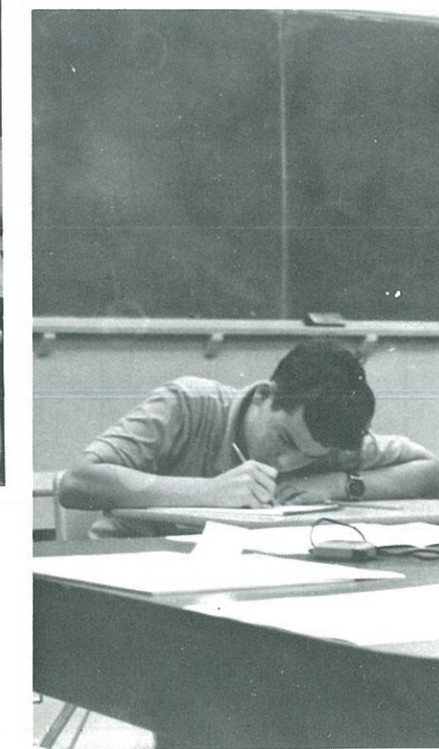

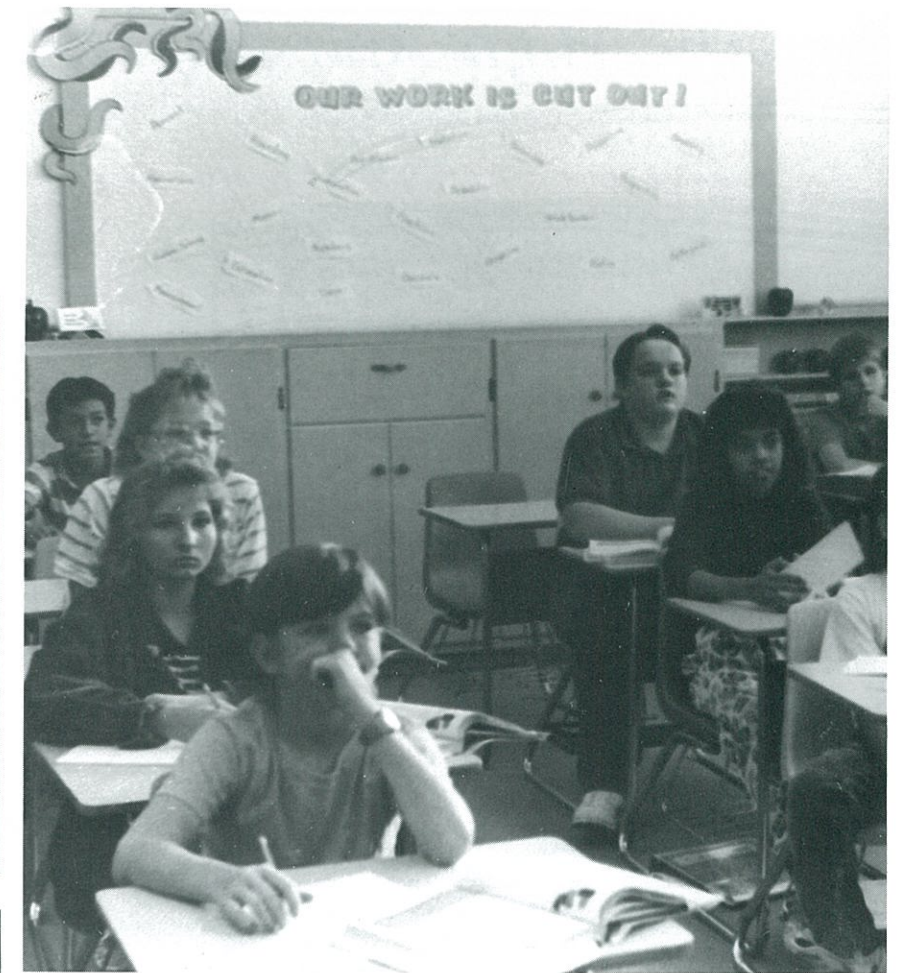

7th grade looks eager and ready to learn.

These kittens look toward the future and a career.

"I'm outnumbered," says Jimmy, "but I don't mind." He's prepared to give his speech, too bad it's history class and not speech.

Their work is cut out for them; but, they look like they're on the right track.

Busily at work! Wonder if that stop watch has anything to do with it.
