

The High And Mighty Wildcats

The 1988-89 Jr. High Wildcats had a disappointing season. Although much effort and enthusiasm were put in, a victory was not claimed. The team consisted of seventeen seventh graders and only six eighth graders. This will be good experience for the upcoming season.

Tommy Smithheart has nothing to worry about, he is fully covered by his teammates.

The 1988-89 Jr. High cheerleaders included: Lucy Valenzuela, Janda Northcutt, Stephanie Maddux, and Christabel Rios.

The Jr. High Wildcats showed much enthusiasm and spirit this year.

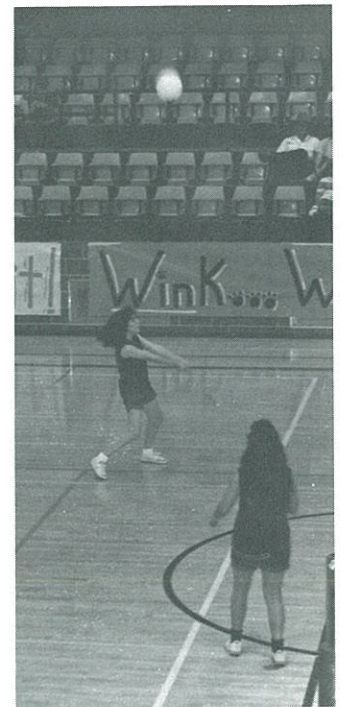

Standing: Coach Nichols, Marshall W., John S., Vonzal S., Bill M., J.J. M., Donny P., Tommy S., Carlton G., coach Thomas, Kneeling: Mgr. James W., Frankie W., Oscar G., Baldo G., Timmy C., Shane H., TGabe L., Micha R., Peter L., Jaimie D., Mgr. Wadw D., Sitting: David S., Ceasar R., Mike M., Jr. L., Michael H., Coty B., Trey D., and Jerry M.

Jr. High "Sets" To "Pass" The Test.

Standing: Melissa H., Janda N., Lucy V., Jamie S., Stephanie M., Marti C., Coach Gina Harris, Kneeling: Christabel R., Mayra V., LeeAnn G., Tanya T., LaCosta S., Elsa G., and Ana M.

The 1988-89 Jr. High volleyball girls had an exceptional season. They showed a lot of talent and spirit, above all they were very competitive. The girls had two advantages, power and height. Considering that they are seventh and eighth they showed great dedication.

The Jr. High volleyball girls show their enthusiasm before a big game.

Coach Harris gives some last minute advice.

LeeAnn Garrison uses a perfect technique for relaying the ball.

The team's eyes were always on the ball.