

"Wink High School Students, One Big Family."
 Every school year, students help each other out in everything they do. This year has been a special year. A new principal was elected and there were a lot of rules changed, but other than that, school has been basically the same.

Students have been coming together and cheering at the games, and at pep rallies. Some by coming to the home games, and riding fan buses to out of town games. Pride and spirit has been lively this year, and everybody joins at pep rallies and at games to cheer Wink's teams on.

When students are not together at games, they are together as friends and as families. Friends are always together when someone has lost a loved one in their family. "One Big Family," that is what Wink students are all about.

Mommy doesn't love us any more.

Are we cool or what?

Buddies forever!

Students show their spirit on sock day.

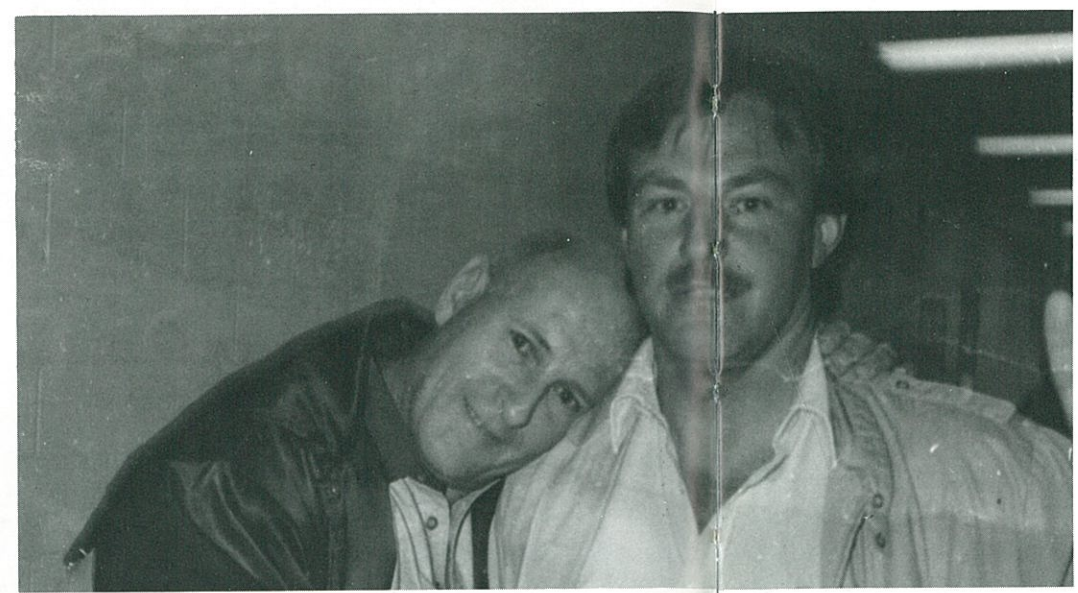

Jimmy please don't leave me.

The three stooges: Larry, Curly, and Moe.

Parents enjoying a good game of football.

You're my hero.

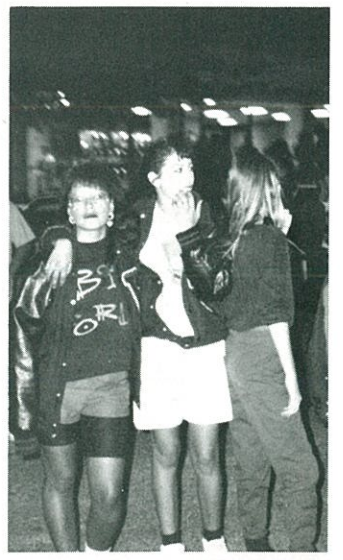

Madonna move over.

Look what I can do mommy.

True wildcats show their true spirit.

Brandon does his best to ignore the love birds.

Ana, tell him to stop looking at me.