

Making A Grade

The students of Wink High School have lots of classes to choose from. Some classes such as Journalism and Spanish are elective classes. These classes are taken to get extra credits. Students have a choice whether to take them or not. In order to graduate the students have to have four years of English and other required classes.

Here we have Mrs. Baker giving Andy her professional opinion on English.

Andy writes Stephanie a love letter, while Roger and Tonka amuse themselves.

Jessica looks lost in her Spanish class, while the other students are working on their homework.

Gilbert asks Mrs. Baker, "What was that again," while Hilda is busy at work.

Lee decides to read his book after finishing with his Spanish.

While waiting for the bell to ring Shannon entertains the English class, all except for Billy.

Amy bites her hand waiting for the answer.
