

Monkey Business

The weekends here, school is no more in mind.
Students of Wink have special interests of their kind.
It's time to take school out of everyone's head;
And have a little fun and excitement instead.

It's hard to believe that even with school work and extra-curricular activities, students still find time out of their busy schedules to rope, collect favorite items, and play instruments.

Students, like everyone else, look forward to Friday. When they're not out with their friends they are busy with their favorite pastime! Physically active students are Calvin Baker, who ropes during his leisure time, Shawn Bustamante and Merrick Brown who play their guitars. Besides being physically active, there are those who prefer less energetic activities. For example, Twila Akin collects stuffed bunnies, David Hinchliffe's leisure time is spent on his personal computer, and Eric Estrada collects baseball cards.
