

Sixth Graders Mark Six Down and Six To Go!

Since the year started the sixth graders have been involved in many different activities.

Band is one of the extra-curricular activities that they are all involved in.

During drug week these students participated in the "Drug Awareness Week." On "Drugs are Unbearable" day the sixth graders brought some of their bears to school to show that they were against drugs.

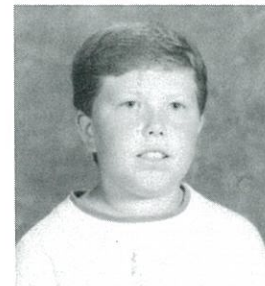

A special orientation at the junior high school in May got the class ready to move up to the junior-senior high school after a summer off.

Six graders pose with their bears in Mrs. McCallister's room during "Drugs are Unbearable" day.

Erin Wolf, Angela Milligan, and Dustin Loftin play the scales during seventh period band class.
