

Even pre-schoolers dress up to cheer for the Wildcats. For proof, just look at Caleb Martinez in his snazzy pep rally attire.

'Hat Day' was a sparkling spirit-filled success thanks to creations such as the one worn by eighth grader Joni Clark.

Math teacher Tim Seymore finds Wildcat spirit is contagious especially on 'Hat Day'.

Senior Peter Lara proves Wildcat power can overcome Jal's Panthers, and classmate Stephanie Maddux realizes she is in the wrong color on 'Jersey Day'.

'Spirit' looks beautiful on sophomore Jodi Carlton, who is pictured with her creative shaker can.

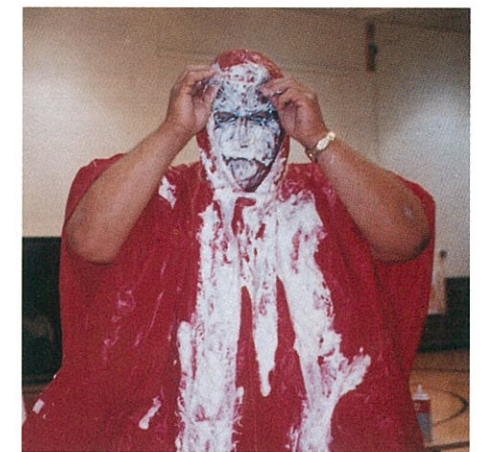

Wildcat Spirit on the Loose

Senior Brande Scott and junior Jeffrey Watts dress up as twins in Greek togas during Homecoming Week.

Coach Gene Zeigler never had a chance when he appeared as the Rankin Red Devil at pep rally time; and, of course, he ended up with pie in his face!

Junior cheerleader Erin Jones certainly knows how to wear her 'Angry Orange Spirit'.

Wildcat cheerleaders Sally Carrillo, Lucy Valenzuela, Erin Jones, mascot Stephen Tidwell, Stephanie Maddux, Desiree Bickle, Geta Wilson, Sharon Bryant, Jennifer Kubena, Misty Lukins, and Karina Carrillo glow with spirit for the blackout pep rally held the Thursday night before Homecoming.