

Pumping Up the Spirit!

The cheerleaders of the 1994-95 season had an exciting time cheering for the successful Wildcats. The cheerleaders tried new spirit days and lots of new ideas for spirit competitions and pep rallies. The varsity cheerleaders will have a lot of memories from the year, especially since the squad consisted of mostly seniors. During the season the cheerleaders, with help from the mothers of the players, were busy making fence signs, streamers, run-through signs and other decorations to get the Wildcats pumped up for big games. With the support of sponsors Chrissie Ethridge and Vonda Vernor, the cheerleaders had a job well done!

JV cheerleader, Desiree Bickle, watches and cheers intently as the team marches downfield.

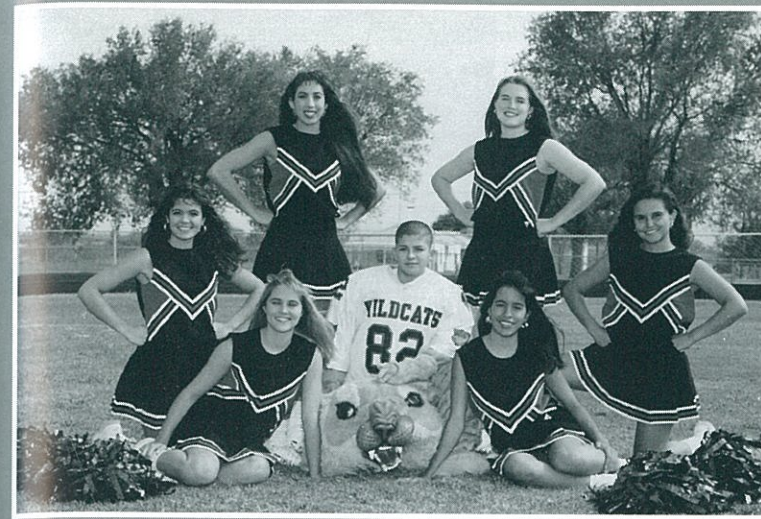

Amanda Henderson gets her ankle taped before the homecoming game by Mr. Carrol Eggleston in order to be ready for her strenuous vertical jumps.

The varsity cheerleaders pose for a second with supportive family members, Ms. Karen Jones and Mr. Danny Carrillo, before leaving for a game.

Long road trips to games as far away as Fort Hancock can be tiring and exasperating, but the cheerleading team had a great time.

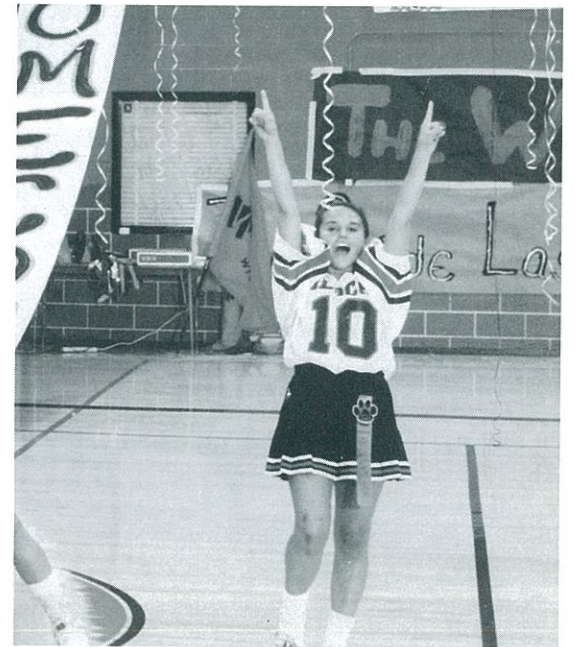

Varsity Cheerleaders: Erin Jones, Shannon Parham, Ashley Robertson, Karina Carrillo, Kristy Northcutt, Sally Carrillo, and mascot, J.J. Lopez.

Junior Varsity Cheerleaders: Amanda Henderson, Desiree Bickle, Misty Lukins, and Marci Wilkinson.

The varsity cheerleaders and mascot enjoy the beautiful weather prior to the kick-off of the season opener against the McCamey Badgers.

Sally Carrillo and Kristy Northcutt pair up to get the crowd going during for a crucial third-down play.

Karina Carrillo lifts her arms high to proclaim the Wildcats are 'Number One.'