

The Staff with 'No Fear'

Rainy picture days when two of the four people you need pictures of are absent, ruined negatives, a dead camera battery, copy to write that was due yesterday, the red light burns out in the dark room. . . . These are just a few of the problems a yearbook staff faces on an almost daily basis. However, when proofs come back from the publisher and a lay-out looks great, the downside of journalism class is quickly forgotten. Hopefully, the end results of a lot of hard work by the 1995 Wildcat staff will be pleasing for years to come.

When Jodi Carlton was not working on a yearbook lay-out, she took time to read feature articles in preparation for U.I.L.

Amanda Gonzales selects a lay-out, Jhenisa Barnett sorts pictures, and Denise McGuire and Brandy Harris work at the computer, all trying to meet another deadline.
