

Cheerleaders Transmit Spirit in Sound Waves

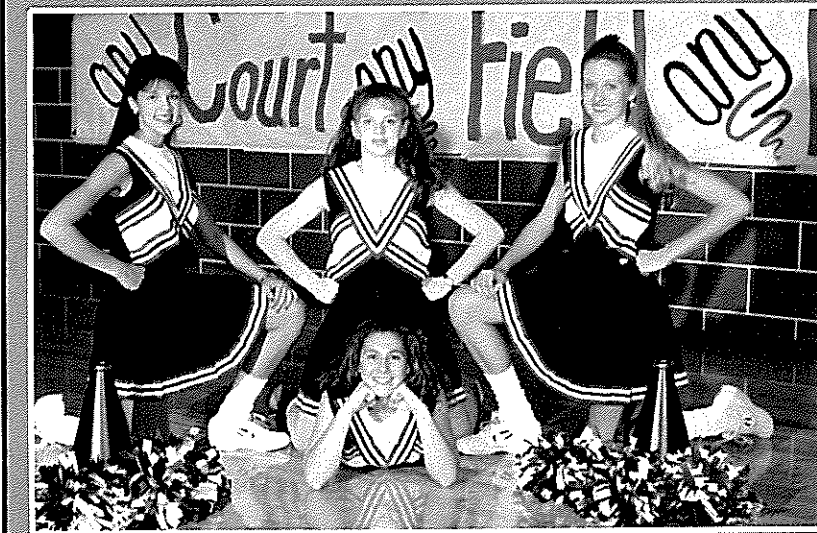

The cheerleaders of 1995-96 boosted up school spirit by conducting the weekly pep rally, decorating the halls with inspirational signs, and by sponsoring spirit competitions. These activities required many hours of work after school and during activity period. An addition to the list of a cheerleader's responsibilities was introduced this year. This was the formation of a 'Little Sister' Cheerleading Camp held at the end of summer vacation for elementary age girls. Varsity and JV cheerleaders taught cheers and dance routines to twenty-eight future cheerleaders. Each participant of the camp then joined the varsity cheerleaders at a pep rally during the regular season to help fire-up the Wildcats.

Cheerleader Marcie Wilkinson introduces her 'little sister,' sixth grader Britney Brooks, at the homecoming pep rally, while fifth grader Kendra Casteel and her 'big sister' Desiree Bickle stand by.

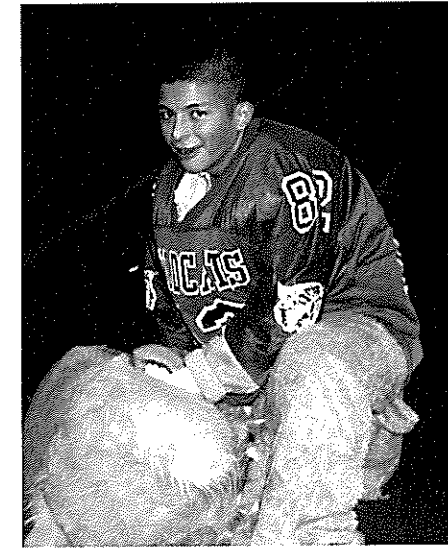

Senior cheerleader Ashley Robertson and fourth grader Jessica Garcia are ready to 'Sock It to 'Em!'

Varsity Cheerleaders and Mascot: top-Marcie Wilkinson and Suzanne Kelton; bottom-Misty Lukins, Desiree Bickle, J.J. Lopez, Sally Carrillo, and Ashley Robertson.

Junior Varsity Cheerleaders: kneeling-Amber Robertson, Michelle Harbin, and Jess Anne Fernandes; floor-Erin Wolf.

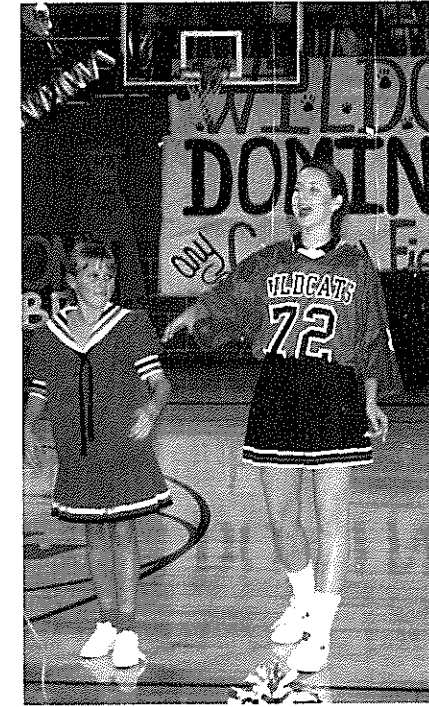

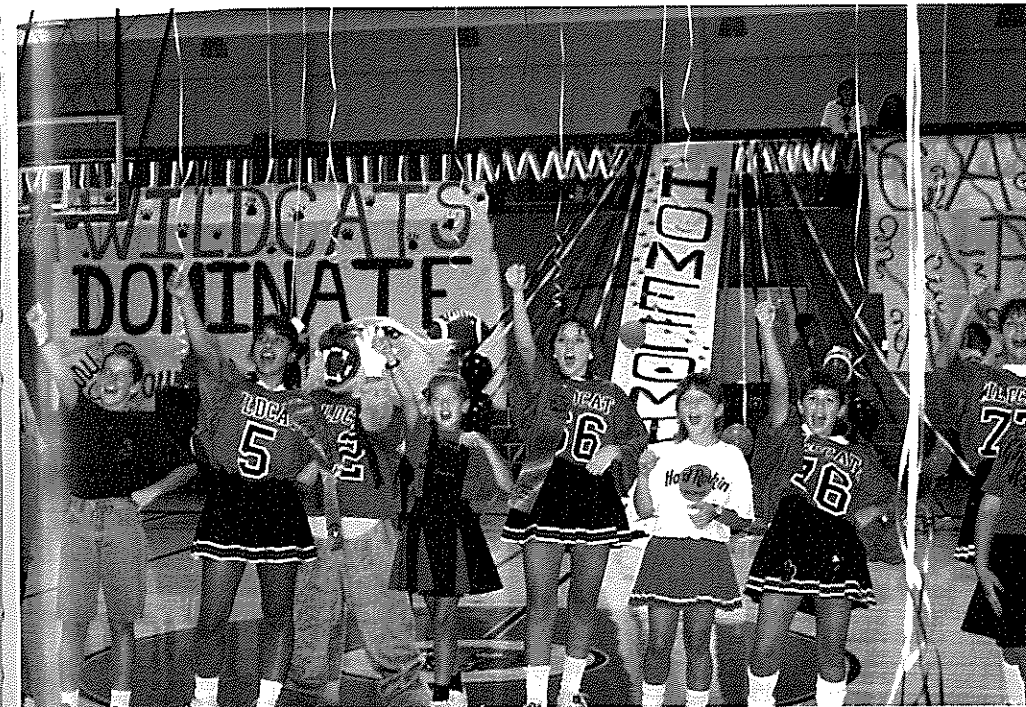

Misty Lukins and orange and black balloons brighten the pep rally stage.

Mascot J.J. Lopez gets ready to metamorphosize into Willy Wildcat.

JV and junior high cheerleaders joined the varsity cheerleaders and their 'little sisters' to continue the W.H.S. tradition of putting on an extra special homecoming pep rally.

Suzanne Kelton and 'little sister' Jodi Graham fire up the pep rally crowd.

60 Cheerleaders

Cheerleaders sponsored a Western Spirit Day for the Fort Davis game, and Sally Carrillo and Desiree Bickle urged the Wildcats to round-up the Indians.

Junior varsity cheerleaders Jess Anne Fernandes, Amber Robertson, and Erin Wolf kept spirit and fellow cheerleader Michelle Harbin sky high.