

October Madness

Each year Homecoming Week gives the student body an opportunity to turn loose a wild and crazy spirit that builds each day leading up to the Friday night game. 1996 was no exception to the rule. The Student Council sponsored a four day spirit competition beginning on Tuesday with Crazy Day, followed with Hat Day on Wednesday, Switch Day on Thursday, and ending on Friday with Black Out the Blue Devils Day. This week truly reflected October Madness!

Cheerleader Misty Lukins leaves her mark on Wildcat Drive, better known as The Drag.

Juniors Alan Watts and Amanda Henderson share the Homecoming Spirit on game day decked out in traditional mums and garters.

Cheerleader Jess Anne Fernandes prepares for the Black Light Pep Rally by painting huge signs with glow-in-the-dark paint.

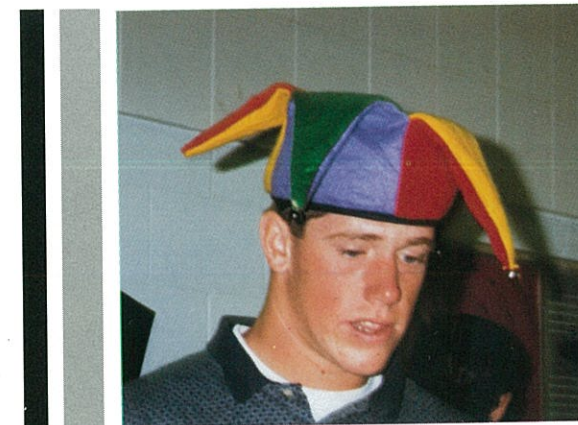

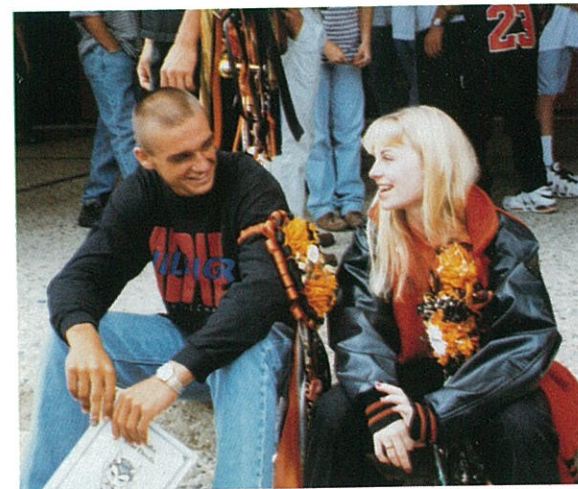

Freshman Jessica Jones does not quite seem to know what to think about senior Jason Berta's Crazy Day antics.

October Madness turns into ... A Night of Magic

The Homecoming Week festivities build to a climax moments before game time when the band and football team jointly take to the field in honor of queen contestants nominated by the student body. This year's honorees, juniors Desiree Bickle and Suzanne Kelton and sophomore Casie Slaughter were introduced to the awaiting fans and the night became magical for the '96 Queen, Suzanne Kelton.

Queen Suzanne Kelton along with Princesses Casie Slaughter and Desiree Bickle sparkle and shine as they enjoy the Wildcat victory over Presidio on a beautiful October night.

The student body looks to seniors for leadership. Calvin Baker shows it is important to be a good sport on and off the field as he good naturedly participated in the fun of Hat Day.

Seniors Marilyn Briones, Melissa Marrufo, Stephen Treadwell, Ben Haring, Dana Hollander and Tina Wilson go to extreme measures to build spirit by dressing up as gangsters on Crazy Day. Their efforts won them the first place prize - a Snickers bar!

Homecoming Queen Suzanne Kelton and Princesses Casie Slaughter and Desiree Bickle let the school colors fly high as they release balloons into the West Texas sky moments before kick-off.
