

Mickey and April Underwood, along with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Underwood, enjoy a minute of family togetherness on Band Parent Appreciation Night.

Different class schedules separate friends, but freshmen Eathan Hamm, Weldon Thompson, Swen Swenson and Ben McGehee get together during morning break for breakfast and conversation.

Football pep rallies bring the student body together in support of the Wildcats and help boost school spirit. The cheerleading squad uses many ingenious plans to get every one involved. At one pep rally Coach Gene Zeigler is tied to his all-state center, Pat Gray, for a three-legged race. Seniors Kristi Navarrete and Aletha Weaver seem to enjoy the activity.

When a severely sprained ankle side-lined Geanna Baker at the beginning of volleyball season, senior Brandon Thompson helped boost her spirits by toting the ice bucket.

The Wildcat Memorial Gymnasium took on a definite shape and reached its completion during the first semester, and . . .

. . . the 1997-98 school year fell into place piece by piece also. In groups, teams and individually, Wildcats found success . . .
