

All for one and one for all, truly defines student council members Marci and Mandi McCallister and Kelsey Brown. Council members dressed for Halloween and presented trick or treat safety lessons to elementary students.

Erin Wolf diligently works on the Valentine Dance picture holders. The council provided a photography service for couples and friends wanting a special souvenir of the occasion.

Seventh grade representative Kelli Benham oversees the work of senior council member Greg Smith as he prepares a sign for the Valentine's Day dance.

1997-98 Student Council Officers: standing - Erin Wolf, recording secretary; Geanna Baker, vice president; Pat Gray, treasurer; and Amber Robertson, corresponding secretary; seated - Desiree Bickle, president

Student Council Members: top to bottom (l-r)- Marci McCallister, Sam Haring, Mandi McCallister, Shawn Matthews, Greg Smith, Kelsey Brown, Dustin Loftin, David Gilbreath, Bear Haring, Kevin Benham, Randell Hill, Kelli Benham, Danni White, Jennifer Vega, Amber Loftin, Amanda Haring, Jessica Ancira, April Underwood, Donna Jones, Pat Gray, Desiree Bickle, Erin Wolf and Amber Robertson.

P.A.W.S.....

Positive Attitudes Win Success!!

Student Council members have the opportunity to become the voice of the entire student body. With this comes much responsibility.

Members cannot successfully fulfill this duty without building leadership qualities into their characters.

Members learn to prioritize their time in order to accomplish what is expected of them as council members and still maintain grades and participate in other extra-curricular activities.

My years on the council, especially my year as president, have been invaluable. I encourage all students who want to have a positive impact on Wink High School to begin with service on the student council.

~Desiree Bickle, president

Student council member Danni White enjoys dancing the night away with Heath Morton at one of the many dances the student council held.

Hours of concession stand duty are part of being a member of the student council. Desiree Bickle and Jessica Ancira poured Cokes and Dr. Peppers one after another.