

With their first periods free each day, seniors Lucas Jerome and Libby Connell enlisted in the Teacher's Aide program. Lucas files periodicals into the proper stack in the library, and Libby works in the main office for Mrs. Dossey.

Alan Watts donates some time to the Band Boosters and is put to work chopping potatoes for their stew and cornbread fund-raiser.

Greg Smith provides a solo rendition of The Star Spangled Banner before a home varsity volleyball game. Greg provided this service throughout volleyball season and then as part of the basketball band as well.

Senior Shannon Nelson stays busy and earns money by working afternoons at Lowe's Marketplace.

Junior Robin Warbois and her horse Ridley hit the road almost every week-end during the fall and spring to compete in high school rodeos.

Varied Interests and Talents Create a Pleasing Mixture

Students keep busy with class work, athletics, UIL and a combination of jobs, hobbies and community or school service. Idle time does not even exist in most vocabularies.

Students learn extremely important time management skills through a hands-on approach. In other words: They learn by doing.

LaVenda Bingham, Amber Robertson, Dustin Loftin, Doro Mendoza and Justin Hamm take part in the Winkler County Junior Leadership Program. Over a period of several weeks the group learns many things including the importance of volunteering time to help one's community.

Amanda 'Peanut' Haring has plans for college and works week-day afternoons at Winkler County Credit Union to earn money to help put her plans into action.