The 2004 season took the Wildcats on a wild roller coaster ride of ups and downs. The team began the year with two losses, but then trounced the Rankin Red Devils a former district foe, and defeated the Jal Panthers in a renewed rivalry game. However, the team took a plunge when four starters missed three crucial games due to disciplinary action. Unfortunately, two of these games were district matches. Young, inexperienced players did a fine job of filling the gap, but the team fell just short of accomplishing its goal of returning to the playoffs. As the season drew to a close, and the team was again at full strength, the Wildcats took an upward turn and finished the season with three district wins including the defeat of the McCamey Badgers on their home turf.
