Lady Cats hoop it UP

Team holds its own with tough opponents

Even though the Lady Cat basketball team's overall record was not the desired result, the team put forth tremendous effort and fought each opponent to the final buzzer. The scrappy players used speed, determination and a never-say-die attitude to force each challenger to play at a higher level.

Led by three seniors, and fortified by experienced underclassmen, the team managed to finish atop the consolation bracket in the elite Stanton Tournament. In district play, the girls never lost a game by double digits. With a core of young players returning, the Lady Cats should be a formidable force next season.

The Lady Cats huddle with Coach Wendy McKinney after a strategic time-out.

Senior Amanda Golden and juniors Randi Shackelford and Alexys Dodd try to block an opponent's jump-shot.

Senior Kayla Ward struggles to get free for an inbound play.
