

Student Council

People Initiate Responsible Actions to Encourage Success

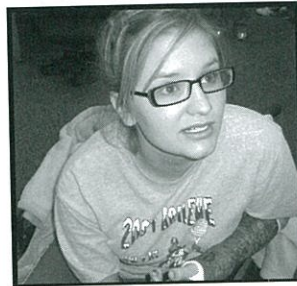

service w/a smile

Sophomore Andra Kerley helps cut out recycled Winter Olympic medals.

Seniors Sarah Jones and Stormy Harbin dance at the student council's Winter Talent show.

President
Kendra Kerley

I love being a student council officer because it has made me step out of my comfort zone and interact with different people. I believe this has helped prepare me for college because I won't be uncomfortable working with new acquaintances.

Vice President
Justin Cole

I think the thing I will miss most about student council is all of the friendships I've made with people from across the state. Many of them are like family and it's sad to think that I won't have a chance to see them again.

Recording Secretary
Erin Whitmire

My favorite part of being a student council officer is attending summer workshop because I've made friendships that will hopefully last forever. I still talk to people that I meet at my first camp two years ago.

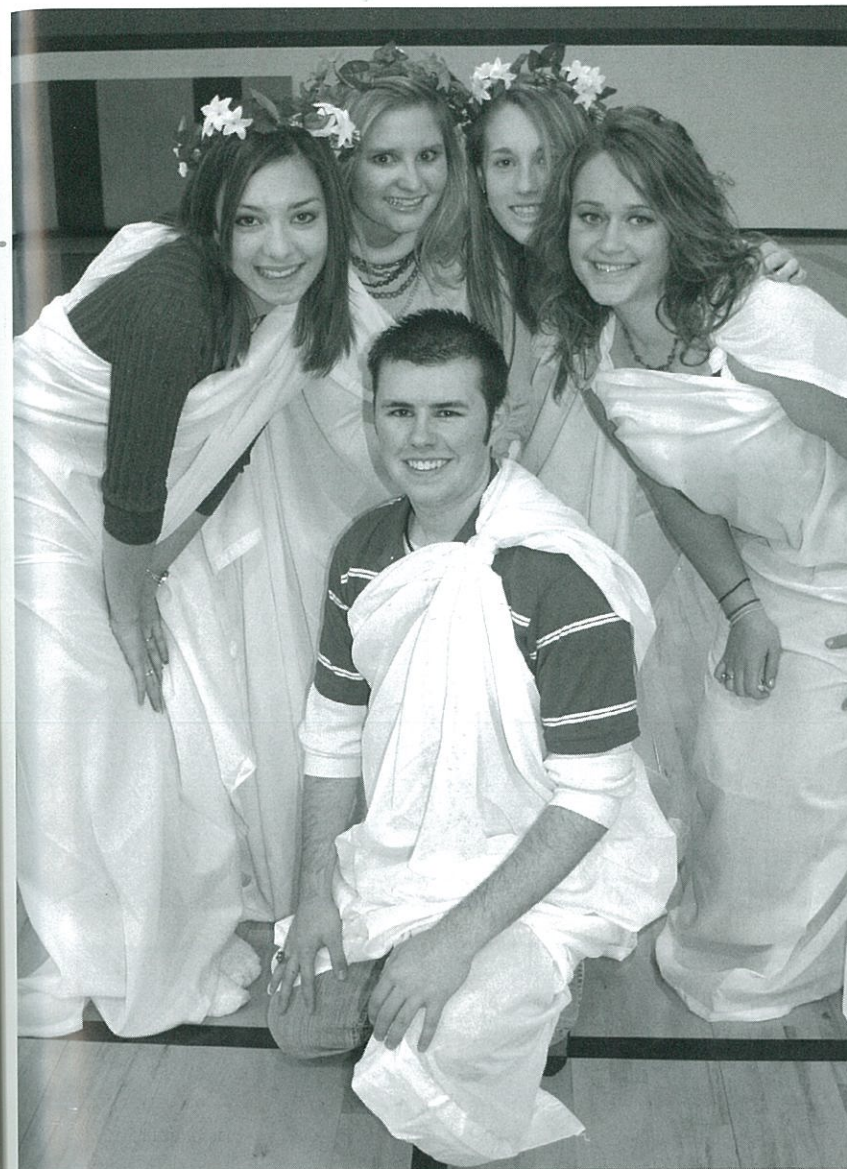

Corresponding Secretary
Jenny Watson

My favorite thing about student council is the all the fun I have and also the memories that I've made.

Treasurer
Kristen Boggess

This year's group of officers mesh well together and we've had a blast doing everything we've undertaken.

Student council officers Erin Whitmire, Kendra Kerley, Kristen Boggess, Jenny Watson, and Justin Cole prepare for the second Winter Olympic Games at Wink High School.

What was your favorite StuCo project this year?

WHITNEY ABILA

"My favorite project is Drug Free Week because I like all of the different dress-up days on top of its great message."

GABY GARCIA

"I really liked when we did the Radio Lollipop drive because we helped little kids battling cancer."

DANIELLE COOK

"The talent show and Olympics were great because it brought everyone together before we left for the holidays."

2006-2007 Wink Student Council

The highlight for the student council is the Student Council State Convention in Arlington, Texas. This year Jacob Jones, Jenny Watson, Sarah Jones, Justin Cole, Kelsey Wolf, Danny Mendoza, Erin Whitmire, and Kendra Kerley (not pictured) attended the convention and picked up the Sweepstakes Award signifying student council excellence for the ninth consecutive year.