You can't win 'em all. But, if you're going to fall short of the ultimate goal, you need to play with heart and determination. Plus, there's got to be some fun mixed in. If these objectives are met, a team can claim a successful season even if it didn't make the playoffs. This is the correct scenario for the 2006-2007 varsity Wildcats. The going was rough in places, but they persevered and never hung their heads. Thus, they found SUCCESS.
