

On the Air

Live from WHS, it's Channel Three News

In mid-October Mrs. Shelley Shackelford's video technology students took to the airwaves on Channel 3, the public access channel, compliments of Rapid Cable Company. The class filmed extracurricular activities and interviewed teachers and students enabling them to provide interesting news and commentary for the entire community. In order to accomplish this daunting task, students learned the fundamentals of broadcast journalism, how to use video editing software and storyboards, and wrote scripts for lead-ins.
